One of Canada's premier chamber groups, the Gryphon Trio is rapidly establishing itself on the international stage with well-received tours through Europe and the U.S. Formed in 1993, the Trio was named after the mythical half-lion, half-eagle creature reputed to be a guardian of treasures and a symbol of the connection between psychic energy and cosmic force. These characteristics reflect the outlook embodied by the Gryphon Trio - a group known both for its integrity in interpreting the classics as well as presenting exciting new compositions in an audience-friendly way.

Their recordings of Haydn Piano Trios and Mendelssohn/Dvořák Trios have received audience and critical acclaim as well as Juno nominations.
